The old alchemy has always been incomprehensible to me because of all those strange symbols; moreover today we possess instruments that the ancient alchemists did not possess, like lasers, X-rays, scalar waves, etc., so there are all the conditions to renew alchemy for modern times

Philosopher's Stone

As Rudolf Steiner used to say, the Philosopher's Stone is Carbon, and I thought of using the most noble form of carbon, which is the diamond, and treating it with all the radiations of the electromagnetic spectrum colliding with each other for a long time.

MINERAL SEED

The reproduction of the seeds of the minerals is inspired by the reproduction of cells that occurs in the cosmic field, so I had the idea of creating an apparatus with the seven planetary metals, an alchemical gamma ray fire, a DNA helix with spiral conical coils, as shown in the picture.

TRANSMUTATIONS

The simplest transmutation is that of mercury in gold, through the removal of alpha particles; the pancake coil rotates between magnets, creating an internal electromagnetic field.

In this other reactor the transmutation of the graphite in diamond and of the zinc in palladium is obtained at the same time.

ZINC → PALLADIUM
GRAPHITE → DIAMOND
