

Nostradamus & The Plague

by Robert A. Nelson

Doctors are warning that the current outbreak of “Black Plague” on the island of Madagascar will continue to spread and worsen, and could become a global pandemic.

No one is safe from Yersinia pestis, the gram-negative species of bacterium that causes the disease. About a third of the population of Europe – up to 50 million – died of bubonic plague during the Middle Ages. A modern pandemic could claim several hundred million lives.

Yersinia pestis

Yersinia plague takes three forms: bubonic, pneumonic, and septicemic. The Center for Disease Control describes them thus:

Bubonic plague: Patients develop sudden onset of fever, headache, chills, and weakness and one or more swollen, tender and painful lymph nodes (called buboes). This form usually results from the bite of an infected flea. The bacteria multiply in the lymph node closest to where the bacteria entered the human body. If the patient is not treated with the appropriate antibiotics, the bacteria can spread to other parts of the body.

Septicemic plague: Patients develop fever, chills, extreme weakness, abdominal pain, shock, and possibly bleeding into the skin and other organs. Skin and other tissues may turn black and die, especially on fingers, toes, and the nose. Septicemic plague can occur as the first symptom of plague, or may develop from untreated bubonic plague. This form results from bites of infected fleas or from handling an infected animal.

Pneumonic plague: Patients develop fever, headache, weakness, and a rapidly developing pneumonia with shortness of breath, chest pain, cough, and sometimes bloody or watery mucous. Pneumonic plague may develop from inhaling infectious droplets or may develop from untreated bubonic or septicemic plague after the bacteria spread to the lungs. The pneumonia may cause respiratory failure and shock. Pneumonic plague is the most serious form of the disease and is the only form of plague that can be spread from person to person (by infectious droplets)...

The current outbreak in Madagascar is of pneumonic plague. Thousands of cases of plague are reported annually, 95% of which occur in Madagascar and sub-Saharan Africa. Yersinia plague can be treated with antibiotics, but the incubation period of pneumonic plague is so short that death often occurs within 12-24 hours after it is contracted and before treatment can be administered. A modern epidemic of pneumonic plague would be utterly horrific as air travel, increased population density, and ventilation systems facilitate the process.

Perhaps this photo will help you grasp the situation:

Or, if you prefer:

It is also not unreasonably paranoid to imagine that the disease might mutate naturally into a more deadly form, or that a government biochemical warfare lab or some insane brainiac with a CRISPR kit might recombine it with Ebola virus or the like.

The problem has been compounded recently by the outbreak of Marburg Virus Disease (MVD) in Uganda. MVD has a 90% mortality rate.

In any case, the invasion by millions of unhealthy Africans, et al., will inevitably bring “plague” form or another into Europe in the very near future – a rather obvious ratiocination, albeit politically incorrect.

We were also given fair warning by the eminent 16th century French prophet Nostradamus, who foresaw an imminent epidemic of the plague. His excellent record of accuracy qualifies his predictions for careful consideration, especially since he dated some of them with astrological configurations that will occur in 2018.

Michel de Notredame ( Nostradamus )

Doctor Michel de Notredame, better known as Nostradamus, is widely considered to be one of the most accurate prophets of all time. His predictions (called quatrains because they are composed in four lines) were published as The True Centuries, extending “from now to the year 3797”. Nostradamus first wrote his quatrains in plain Old French, and he included names and dates. Then he rewrote them in a complex code of acronyms, anagrams, apocopes, synecdoches, ellipses, hyperations and metatheses, syncopes, apheresis, epenthesis, metonyms, and other exotic grammars and tortured syntaxes. Nostradamus burned (or possibly buried) the original, explicit prose prophecies because he did not want to complicate humanity’s problem of free choice, nor to encourage a fatalism that might deter us from making our best efforts to correct ourselves. He also had no desire to be interviewed by the Holy Inquisition.

Shortly after the publication of The True Centuries, Nostradamus became famous when some of his quatrains were fulfilled by the death of King Henry II. In the ensuing centuries, nearly half of his prognostications have been fulfilled with acceptable (and often startling) accuracy.

About 40 quatrains mention “plague” and “pestilence”, which may be due to Yersinia, Ebola virus, or something else altogether. A few quatrains mention astrological configurations that can be dated with an ephemeris. Thus Nostradamus has given us explicit warning of impending world war, famine, and plague in our very near future:

The horrible war that is being prepared in the West,/ The following year will come the pestilence./ So very horrible that young, old, nor beast,/ Blood, fire, Mercury, Mars, Jupiter in France. (C.9-55)

The next conjunction of Mars and Jupiter will be in January 2018, and a “horrible war” follows soon thereafter. According to Nostradamus, the Black Death will return to devastate Europe in 2019.

After great trouble for humanity, a greater one is prepared/ The Great Mover renews the ages:/ Rain, blood, milk, famine, steel, plague,/ In the heavens fire seen a long spark running. (C.2-46)

Like C.9-55, this quatrain also suggests that World War III has been “prepared” for its debut our near future, concurrent with the appearance of a major comet – and plague.

The scythe joined with the pond toward Sagittarius/ At the high point of its ascendant, / Plague, famine, death by military hand,/ The century approaches its renewal. (C.1-16)

The “scythe” is Saturn, and the “pond” is Aquarius. Saturn will enter Aquarius in March 2020.

Century 1-55 describes modern times, complete with aerial warfare, famine – and plague:

Under the climate opposite to the Babylonian/ There will be great effusion of blood,/ The unrighteous will be on land and sea, in air and sky,/ Sects, famine, realms, plague, confusion. (C.1-55)

This quatrain is too vague to date or locate, but it is self-explanatory:

Near the gates and within two cities/ There will be two scourges the like of which was never seen./ Famine within plague, people put out by steel,/ Crying to the great immortal God for relief. (C.2-6)

Century 2-19 is an apt description of modern Israel/Palestine, plus the impending triad of famine, plague, and war:

Newcomers, place built without defense,/ Place occupied then uninhabitable:/ Meadows, houses, fields, towns to take at pleasure,/ Famine, plague, war, extensive land arable. (C.2-19)

C.2-37 offers no details about place and time, but does specify plague:

Of that great number that one will send/ To relieve those besieged in the fort,/ Plague and famine will devour them all,/ Except seventy who will be destroyed. (C.2-37)

The plague will enter France through Agde:

*Three foists will enter the port of Agde,/ Carrying the infection, not faith but pestilence:/
Passing the bridge they will carry off millions,/ And to break the bridge resistance by a third. (C.8-21)*

The oligarchs and their minions will lose everything in the collapse of Europe and the world economic system as the plague takes its toll:

Those well off will suddenly be removed, / Through the three brothers the world put in trouble,/ The enemies will seize the marine city,/ Famine, fire, flood, plague and all evils doubled. (C.8-17)

The great plague of the maritime city/ Will not cease until there be avenged the death/ Of the just blood, condemned for a price without crime,/ Of the great lady unwronged by pretense. (C.2-53)

Apparently, according to C.3-75, the plague (whether Yersinia or some unknown chimera) also will be used as a biological weapon delivered by a missile or bomb:

Pau, Verona, Vicenza, Saragossa,/ From distant swords lands wet with blood:/ Very great plague comes with the great shell,/ Relief near, and the remedies very far. (C.3-75)

Nostradamus wrote several dozen quatrains concerning the affliction of Europe by “distant swords” – Muslim jihadis and associated barbarian hordes -- and plague. Quatrain C.3-84, for example, probably refers to the sacking of Rome or Paris (“the great city”), and clearly mentions the “p” word:

The great city will be thoroughly desolated,/ Of the inhabitants not a single one will remain there:/ Wall, sex, temple and virgin violated,/ Through sword, fire, plague, cannon people will die. (C.3-84)

“A great plague” will erupt after famine is caused by clouds of locusts and flies that darken the sky and eat everything chewable:

*The fertile, spacious Ausonian plain/ will produce so many gadflies and locusts,/ The solar brightness will become clouded,/ All devoured, great plague to come from them.
(C.4-48)*

Ausonia is the ancient Greek name for southern Italy. The newly-elected Pope (who will hail from France – the “trembling bark” symbolizes the endangered Catholic Church) will negotiate with the Muslim leader, probably to pay traditional dimma tribute to be spared from massacre. But the plague will not be so easily appeased:

*Not far from Spain but from ancient France/ Will one be elected for the trembling bark,/
To the enemy will a promise be made,/ He who will cause a great plague in his realm.
(C.5-49)*

From the vain enterprise honor and undue complaint,/ Boats tossed about among the Latins, cold, hunger, waves/ Not far from the Tiber the land stained with blood,/ And diverse plagues will be upon mankind. (C.5-63)

“The vain enterprise” may well be the European Union. Italy will suffer from storms, famine, war, and “diverse plagues” besides Black Death – the most likely candidates being Ebola virus, cholera, flu and anthrax. Quatrain C.7-6 reiterates the problem:

Naples, Palermo, and all Sicily,/ Through Barbarian hand it will be uninhabited:/Corsica, Salerno, and the isle of Sardinia,/ Famine, plague, war, end of evils remote. (C.7-6)

After Rome is sacked, the plague (“a very copious pestilence”) will follow:

When the holy temple will be seen plundered,/ The greatest one of the Rhone profaning their sacred things:/ Through them will appear a very copious pestilence,/ The King is unjust he will not have them condemned. (C.8-62)

Italians will take to the sea to flee from the plague:

Paterno will hear a cry from Sicily,/ In the Gulf of Trieste all the preparations,/ Which will be heard as far Sicily,/ From so many sails fled, the horrible plague fled. (C.8-84)

After a just man is executed, plague will break out in an unnamed city, and the inhabitants will be forced to flee:

Wrongly will they come to put the just one to death,/ In public and in the middle extinguished:/ So great a pestilence will come to arise in this place,/ That the judges will be forced to flee. (C.9-11)

In the Cyclades, in Perinthus and Larissa,/ In Sparta and the entire Peloponnesus:/ Very great famine, plague through false dust,/ Nine months it will last and throughout the entire peninsula. (C.5-90)

The “false dust” may mean it is artificial – biological warfare. All of Greece and the neighboring islands will be ravaged by war, hunger and disease.

The horrible plague Perinthus and Nicopolis,/ The Peninsula and Macedonia it will fall upon:/ it will devastate Thessaly and Amphipolis,/ An unknown evil, and from Anthony refusal. (C.9-91)

A fortunate elite few will take refuge in a space colony “one hundred leagues from the hemisphere”:

Very great famine through pestiferous wave,/ Through long rain the length of the arctic pole:/ "Samarobryn" one hundred leagues from the hemisphere,/ They will live without law exempt from politics. (C.6-5)

The plague will run its course for some years and eventually return to relative dormancy. Perhaps too a cure will be developed, based on the immunity of survivors and/or the genomes of Yersinia, et al.

FYI and small comfort, there are a few patents for such vaccines: US8722046 (Human Monoclonal Antibodies Protective Against Bubonic Plague); KR20110043201 (Vaccine for Eye-Drop Immunization...); US2009130103 (Purification of Modified Yersinia p. Antigen Fusion Proteins); US2007043215 (Recombinant F1-V Plague Vaccine); US6706522 (Plasmid DNA from Yersinia p.); FR2517966 (Anti-plague vaccine).

Perhaps these US Patents can provide solace and succor versus Ebola and Marburg virus: US7947286 / US7964708 / US7994139 / US8735369 / US8703735 / US8475804 / US8664274 / US8492434 / US8163703, etc. -- and there several dozens more related USP applications and foreign patents extant.

All the above-listed patents involve expensive high technologies that will be in short supply and eventually unavailable as the social infrastructure collapses. That leaves very few choices as last resorts. One may be TetraSilver TetrOxide (TSTO), the most powerful anti-pathogenic known. Ingestion or injections of hydrogen peroxide may also prove effective.

Ozone Therapy is an outright cure for Ebola virus, and probably also destroys Yersinia pestis as well. The effectiveness of ozone in combating Ebola virus was amply demonstrated by Doctor Robert Rowen:

In October 2014, I traveled to Sierra Leone with my colleague Howard Robins to train local health professionals to treat Ebola with ozone therapy. Training went great. We hit a snag. While at the Sierra Leone Ebola treatment center outside the capital, a call came in from the Ministry of Health halting the ozone project. Patients were forbidden to receive ozone, and the staff as well. The staff did continue with our training fearing for their lives otherwise. Patients were denied and left to die.

As 'luck' would have it, several health providers, who were on the front line, subsequently did come down with Ebola. Additionally we know of three additional doctors who contracted the disease. Of these three, two outright refused ozone therapy and quickly and miserably died. These made international news. The third was trained by me and requested ozone and was REFUSED. He also, sadly, died miserably. The remaining 4 managed to get the therapy and all 4 responded nearly instantly, totally recovered within a few days and had no complications. The government announced in the world news that one military physician did recover, and seemed to take credit. However, the government omitted the fact that he received ozone therapy.

We have just published the results of our 4 cases in the African Journal of Infectious Diseases, and I am providing it here for you to read and enjoy.

Please also know that a fifth person, the female consort of one of the senior doctors, who refused ozone and died, had encouraged him to get ozone. She was placed under armed guard quarantine at her home and could not exit to get ozone prophylaxis. Fearing for her life, having had intimate exposure, she scaled a razor wire fence in the middle of the night, shredding her skin, to evade the guards. She was able to get to ozone and developed no symptoms. This is a story made for Hollywood. I'll avoid the rest of the ramifications of what happened for now...

When -- not if -- antibiotics and vaccines or ozone is unavailable at any price, and you cannot escape, do not give up hope. A free natural cure may be at hand -- if Urine Therapy happens to be effective. It behooves the wise reader to become educated about the prophylactic and therapeutic value of fresh urine so the knowledge can be applied in time.

Let us hope that Nostradamus was mistaken, though this does not appear to be the case. Many of his quatrains describe the present invasion of Europe by African and Mideastern jihadis and other nihilists. A few of the quatrains quoted above link the plague and the invasion in no uncertain terms.

In closing, Quatrain C.9-55 in particular bears repeating. It is quite explicit about our very near future, and it is astrologically dated "Mercury, Mars, Jupiter", suggesting a conjunction of those planets:

The horrible war that is being prepared in the West,/ The following year will come the pestilence/
So very horrible that young, old, nor beast,/ Blood, fire Mercury, Mars, Jupiter in France. (C.9-55)

The next conjunction of Jupiter and Mars will be in January 2018. Thus, according to Nostradamus' calculations, the Black Plague will return in 2019. Mercury is not part of that conjunction, but Nostradamus might have erred in his calculation of its orbit (88 days) from some 500 years ago.

Meanwhile: got gas masks? Got antibiotics? Got ozone? Got urine?
